

ADVOKATFIRMAN TITOV & PARTNERS COOKIE POLICY

The law firm Titov & Partners (hereinafter "Titov & Partners") uses cookies on its website in order to optimize its function and improve the visitor's experience of the same. This cookie policy describes the use of cookies and the choices you as a website visitor can make. For more information on how Titov & Partners processes personal data, please see our Privacy Policy.

WHY COOKIES

The use of cookies on a website aims to give you as a visitor access to various functions that optimize the use of the website, as well as to provide the owner of the website with certain information about how it is used. The cookie itself consists of a small text file that a website requests to save on the visitor's computer, tablet or mobile phone.

There are two types of cookies. One type saves a file on your computer for a longer period of time and the other does not have an expiration date – a so-called session cookie. Cookies stored for a long time have an expiration date, while a session cookie is temporary and is only stored during your visit to the website and deleted when you close the browser. A cookie is set either by the proprietor of a website and is a so-called first-party cookie, or by another website and is then a third-party cookie.

TITOV & PARTNERS COOKIES

Titov & Partners uses Google Analytics as a statistical tool. This means that we receive continuous information about how our website is used to evaluate its functions and further develop them. For example, we get information about the number of visitors, which pages are visited and how long the visits last.

Through the use of Google Analytics, the following cookies appear on Titov & Partners website:

- `_ga` (retention period 2 year)
- `_gid` (retention period 24 hours)
- `_gat_gtag_[Property-ID]` (retention period 1 minute)

The respective cookie is used by Google Analytics to identify a visit and thus also gain access to the information collected through the cookie.

BLOCKING OF COOKIES

If you wish to block our use of cookies, you can set it in your browser. However, it may have the effect that some of the features available on the website will not work optimally or will not work at all. Your user experience may thus be adversely affected.

Similarly, if you do not want your visits to our website to appear in the statistics reported by Google Analytics, you can install the "Google Analytics Opt-out" extension in your browser.

THIRD PARTY COOKIES

Titov & Partners' website may contain cookies set by a third party, which we do not have access to or control over. For example, it may be content from LinkedIn and other social networks that use cookies on our website. This means that you as a visitor to our website must check the cookie usage of these providers for more information.

CHANGES TO THIS COOKIE POLICY

Titov & Partners reserves the right to make changes or updates to this Cookie Policy when necessary.